

Head of Clinical Services

Description

Head of Clinical Services

Location: Leicester – Interested in candidates that can commute from Northampton, Nottingham, Cambridge and Peterborough

Salary: £60,000 – £70,000 per annum, depending on experience

My client is seeking an experienced and clinically credible Head of Clinical Services to provide professional leadership across its clinical services.

This is an excellent opportunity for an ambitious senior nursing leader to join an established independent hospital offering a range of surgical and diagnostic specialities.

The Role

Working closely with the hospital's operational and medical leadership teams, you will take overall professional leadership responsibility for clinical services, ensuring the delivery of safe, effective and high-quality patient care.

You will provide leadership and oversight across:

- Theatres
- Outpatients
- Pre-Assessment
- Wider clinical services

The role will have responsibility for maintaining high clinical standards and driving continuous improvement across the hospital. You will play a key role in clinical governance, patient safety, workforce leadership and regulatory compliance, while supporting the effective operational delivery of services.

Key responsibilities will include:

- Providing visible and effective professional clinical leadership across the hospital
- Leading and developing multidisciplinary clinical teams
- Ensuring consistently high standards of patient care and safety
- Providing leadership across clinical governance and quality improvement
- Supporting and embedding a strong patient safety culture
- Ensuring compliance with CQC and other relevant regulatory requirements
- Working collaboratively with consultants, senior management and operational leaders
- Supporting workforce planning, performance and professional development
- Identifying opportunities to improve clinical quality, patient experience and service delivery
- Balancing strong clinical leadership with effective operational delivery
